

Mrs. H. E. Massie and her brother, J. E. Justice, who were called to Pikeville, Ky., several weeks ago by the serious illness of their father, Alex Justice, returned Saturday night in time to attend DeMolay installation here when Mrs. Massie's son, Harold E. Massie, was installed as Master Councilor. Enroute home they visited at Portsmouth, Ohio, and Mrs. Massie took delivery of a new car at South Bend, Indiana.

Boys' Club Plan Given Council by Coordinators

Charles Mitschlich, James Spivak, Edwin A. Bird, Mrs. Flora Wright, George Robinson and Henry Lintott. Other members of the committee, J. O. Bishop and William H. Tolson, have expressed their approval of the project but could not be contacted in time to sign the report, according to President Lessing.

"Last year the increase in delinquency was more than 100 percent over the preceding year," the report continues. "This year's indications are that we will establish a new high point in youth crimes. If these conditions are to be bettered, the community must do its part in furnishing you with normal channels by which they may find expression for their elemental desires, friendship, recognition, adventure, creative expression and group acceptance.

"A survey conducted by the Coordinating Council has given us a frank and very uncomplimentary picture of what we, as a community, are doing to meet the normal needs of our young people . . . The Boy Scouts are meeting about eight percent of their responsibility with 64 active Scouts out of 776 available boys. A composite picture of all the other clubs in the community shows a total membership of 39 percent of available boys . . . that of those that do not now belong to a club, 57 percent would like to belong if there were some group available with sufficient appeal to attract their interest . . . only 30 percent have been making use of City Recreation facilities.

Reduces Delinquency
"It must be understood that a Boys' Club is not merely a place where young people may go to play the report points out. "The old theory that the way to keep a boy out of trouble is to make him play so hard that he will be physically exhausted, is outmoded. The social value of the club lies in bringing youth together in a pleasant and wholesome environment where they may join in a scientifically planned program with the building of character as its objective.

"The possibilities in such an institution are unlimited. We know that from experience of other cities that Boys' Clubs have reduced delinquency up to 60 and 70 percent in one year. Of vital importance in such a program is the location of the building. It must be available to the greatest number . . . For this reason we ask the creation of the Boys' Club on land available to the city, adjoining the County Health Center Building on Carson street near Madrid street.

"The building plan which we have adopted contains 10,150 square feet of floor space and has a full size gymnasium for basketball, boxing, wrestling, badminton and other games, together with shower rooms and storage space. It provides a room 30 feet by 70 feet which may be used both for small games and woodwork and for a club room where games tables and work benches are removed. At the front are two large rooms, 20 by 23 feet each, one of which may be used for hobby and art crafts and the other which will be utilized as a library.

Free Labor Offered
"It is difficult at this time to say exactly how much above plan will cost . . . It has been variously estimated between $150 and $3.60 a square foot. The National Youth Administration has agreed to supply all of the labor for erecting the building free of charge. If this plan for free labor were adopted, the total cost to the city would be reduced about two-thirds.

"We submit that when the city council considers the item of cost, it should keep in mind the present cost of enforcing the law against juveniles with anti-social tendencies. The social values produced by a Boys' Club exceed in importance the monetary values involved in the construction of the building.

"Of equal, if not of greater importance than the item of construction is that of adequately trained supervision. The key to the success of any character building organization is leadership . . . Our plan, therefore, calls for employment of a director who has been scientifically trained . . . We believe Torrance needs and wants such an institution and we believe the citizens are ready and willing to spend the money necessary to accomplish these high objectives," the Coordinating Council committee's report concludes.

Lomita Theatre Books Notable Screen Bills

Starting tonight at the Lomita theatre, Ann Sothern and Lee Bowman will entertain with an abundance of laughter in "Gold Rush Maisie." The story is located in a deserted mining town in Arizona and in addition to being a splendid screen offering by a distinguished cast including Slim Summerville and Virginia Weidler, it is noted for its distinctly new treatment of the western yarn.

Also on the program is "The Girl from God's Country," a virile Satepost story of Alaska. The cast includes Chester Morris, Charles Bickford and Jane Wyatt. The story, a thrilling drama of the great outdoors, is sure to please everyone.

Sunday the screen surprise hit of the year, "The Great McGinty" comes to the Lomita with Brian Donlevy, Muriel Angelus and Akim Tamiroff. The companion feature will be that vivid western drama "When the Daltons Rode," featuring Randolph Scott and Kay Francis.

INTEND TO WED

Notices of intention to marry were filed this week by the following:
James V. Halter, 25, of 525 Virginia street, Torrance and Mildred Holland, 28, of 1750 Marina avenue.
Rafael Z. Grajeda Jr., 40, of 81 Harriet street, Torrance and Juanita H. Ruiz, 34, of 2523 Carnegie Lane, Redondo Beach.
Florus W. Sutton, 27, of 2643 Magnolia avenue, Long Beach, and June Coward, 20, of 1415 Marcellina avenue.
Wilbur James Maddy, 23, of 1400 220th street, Torrance, and Evelyn Irene Young, 20, of 2074 250th street, Lomita.

SEA ROVER . . . Errol Flynn is at his most dashing as "The Sea Hawk" in the new screen story of the saga of Britain's daring sea rovers in the days of the Armada. Brenda Marshall, Alan Hale and Flora Robson are other favorites appearing with Flynn now at the La Mar theatre in Manhattan Beach, through Tuesday. Companion hit is the tenebrous, mirthful and romantic "Rhythm On The River" with Bing Crosby, Mary Martin and Oscar Levant.

Redondo Plunge Resumes Popular Student Nights

Beginning Friday night, Oct. 11, the aqua delias and beaux from various high schools, junior colleges, prep schools and universities will again hold their weekly water frolics at the popular Redondo Beach Plunge and Bath House.

Friday nights have been designated as "Collegiate nites" at the famous indoor salt water plunge and students may then present their student-body cards for special 25 cent admission including the use of suit, towel and locker.

The new fall bath house schedule remains the same as the summer hours, week days from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. with the exception of Wednesdays when the plunge will be closed entirely. Sunday hours are still from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. for the enjoyment of young and old in the healthful recreation of swimming.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Murelson have been enjoying a two weeks' vacation. Murelson, who returned to his duties Monday as manager of the Western Auto Supply store here, served as delegate to the Kiwanis International district convention at Santa Barbara during his vacation.
